The tiond Old Boys of Yore.

(E. P. P. in Globe Democrato Trifles makes the world over every fifty years. We are living to-day with almost nothing that was familiar when we we've young. I do not eastern cities, fully 30 per cent, of the wonder old people talk of the good men over 30 years of age show unmisold times. To be sure, they would not enjoy them now; but they are that are not only baid, but actually polpleasant to remember for then we ished with the gloss that is supposed to knew no better ways. Who would like to forget how he sat in the chimhey corner, and looked at the crackling fire of logs, and listened to grand- Louis, and other places of the west, and father reading the story of Samson or Jonah? Bless me, we no longer even believe those good old storses. All is changed, and one can never, come Philadelphia, Washington and the as the poet wishes, go back to the western towns. I say "men" for two gates of childhood again. No, it is not the reapers, and the steamboats. and the telegraphs that turn up topsyturvey, but the little affairs of the the hair is combed up so as to cover household. What, above all, do you miss nowadays? I asked of old Father Ellenwood, Well, he said, it's the old kitchen, with its strings of dried apples, bunches of herbs, smoked hams and dried beef-that's what I miss. setually bald, 36 indications of baldness. If Heaven's like that, I'd like to be off.

Liquor Bealers' Contest.

The test case of the Liquor Dealers Association was brought into the courts to-day by the arrest of Robert Popular Science Monthly, Connell, on a warrant sworn out by Sheriff Mulvenon, on three separate charges of violation of the new license his discovery was simply this: That law. Mr. Connell was taken before salt fish will keep, and that fish that can Judge W. H. McGrew, where a continuance of the case was had until tomorrow, at 10 o'clock. J. C. Herndon, ture. This one of unusual interest to this Territory, being the first one brought to test the validity of laws passed by the 14th legislative assembly. Same One.

(From the Detroit Free Press.) A young lady had finally been persnaded to approach the piano, and she was looking for the music of the "Old Oaken Bucket," when a tiredlooking old lady advanced and whispered :

"My dear, is this that same old song?"

"Yes'm." "The same man comes and draws

All this talk of the newspaper of the future being a very small sheet that can be read at breakfast, with all the news of the world and editorial comment thereon boiled down to a compass of a few lines, or at most a column or two, comes from the small-

going and add:

Of course, the enormous and unmanageable blanket sheets of the day wish to have it understood that the newspaper of the future will contain from twenty to a hundred immense taken into the system through the pages crowded with advertisements. Jungs. There are a few well-proven pages crowded with advertisements, and a little reading matter scattered here and there like pepper on an omelette. Perhaps it may be so; and for the purpose of lighting fires there is an unquestionable advantage in these immense masses of paper.

Official figures of forty-eight of the principal railroads in the United ocrat. States for the third week of Apri show an increase in the gross earnings of 10.64 per cent, as compared with the corresponding week of 1886. These figures, of course, are of little value as showing the effect of the interstate commerce act, as an increase in traffic on most of the roads of the country has been noted in nearly every week of the year thus far, when compared with the same time in 1886. However, the expansion in earnings is highly encouraging, irrespective of any bearing which it may have on the rate-regulating enactment.

A story goes that a young man in Allahabad proposed to a young lady in Calcutta by telegraph, adding, Maj. Anderson. The other lieutenant. Women are not such exacting crea tures after all. The Sultan of Turkeydivides his affections between 494 waves and they are all content.

To a person who has a moderately well supplied pocketbook and a thoughtful turn of mind, there can be no more fruitful theme for meditation than to go into our large halfs, theatres, churches, and other places of public resort, and, securing a seat in the gallery or in the rear part of the room, look at the heads of the audience, for no other purpose than to ascertain by actual count how many show signs of baldness. Unless the experimenter has been in the habit of counting for this object, he will be surprised to bearn that, in most of the takable signs of haldness, while nearly 20 per cent, have spots on their heads belong to extreme old age alone. I have been in the majority of the churches and theatres in all the large eastern cities, as well as in Chicago, St. have verified my assertion by actual count. From my observation I find that baldheaded men are most plentiful in New York and Boston. After these reasons: first, because women usually wear their hats or bonnets on such oc casions, thus covering their crowns second, in case their hats are removed any possible bald spot, or else there is an artificial "switch" to hide the defects of nature. So, without indulging in any speculations regarding what may be, I will confine myself to what is to be seen.

Here are a few observations taken in Boston: Trinity church-943 men; 71 King's chapel-86 men; 88 actually bald, 14 indications of baldness. Hollis Street theatre, orchestra, at performance of the "Mikado"-63 men; 27 actually bald, 10 indications. Boston theatre, Judic-126 men: 51 actually bald, 49 indications .-

The English fisheries were not so prominent 500 years ago as they are now and Holland had for a time almost a monopoly of a market which she was able to create and supply. Buckels had to wait 500 years to have his claim to public gratitude recognized. Charles . had a statue erected to the herring salter, who became the benefactor of his country. Queen Mary of Hungary, however, paid him oven greater honor. During her residence in Holland she discovered his tomb, and, seated upon it, ate a salted herring.-Pall Mail Ga

Apropos of Munich, one picture of daily life that used to amuse me there was the tipsy dogs. Bull dogs, blood-hounds and Danes are the swellest breeds, and the brutes all drink beer like their masters. > A Trie of Noted Men. Gen. Winfield Scott, when a young man, was stationed at Fort Snelling-at that day perhaps the remotest military outpost in the country. When the Black Hawk war was begun some Illinois militin companies proffered their services. Two lieutenants were sent by Scott to Dixon Ills., to muster the new soldiers. Our of the lieutenants was a very fascinating young man, of easy manners, and affa-ble disposition; the other was equally pleasant but extremely modest. On the morning when the muster was to take piace, a tall, gawky, slab-sided, homely young man, dressed in a suit of blue jeans, presented himself to the lieutenants as the captain of the recruits, and was duly sworn in. The homely young man was Abraham Lincoln. The bashful lieutenant was he who afterward fired the first gan from Fort Sumter.
